"Giant Killers, Indeed!"

On Thursday last, this newspaper somewhat hesitatingly suggested that, in view of their performance against the Vernon Canadians, the Kelowna Packers might turn out to be the "Giant Killers" of B.C. hockey this year. The Packers have done just that. On Saturday night they handed the final coup de grace to the Allan Cup-labelled Kamloops Elks to take the Okanagan League title. Should the Packers fail to win another game, they deserve all the credit which can be heaped upon them.

They took the final in four games, winning the last three in a row. On Saturday night they handed the Elks a terrific defeat; they not only turned on a scoring offensive that astounded their admirers, they played such defensive hockey that the Elks were shut out for the first time in 162 games of league play.

The turning point of the series was the Friday game in Kamloops when, after a first period in which mayhem was the Elks' chief weapon, the Packers, despite the knowledge Kuly was off with a broken rib and Amundrud was playing with what was feared was a broken jaw, and despite the fact their two-goal advantage had melted into a one-goal deficit, they kept plugging along. Their supporters had written the game off; but not so the Packers. They kept fighting and pulled that game out of the fire simply by refusing to be licked. With that game in the bag, on Saturday night they were never in danger and skated the Elks right into the ice. The Packers deserve all the nice things that can be said about them.

The most important thing about the Kamloops series was not that Kelowna won; it was that Kamloops lost. The fact that once again a money-team failed to make the grade should do a great deal to put hockey back on a sound foundation in the Okanagan.

For three years at least now the rich Kamloops club has gone out to buy an Allan Cup team. Once their hopes were dashed in the Western playdowns and once the Vernon Canadians handed them the coup de grace in the local league finals. This year, so powerful were the Elks, that weeks ago even the Coast papers were convinced they only had to go through the motions to take the Allan Cup.

But when it came to the pinch it was demonstrated that highly-paid players do not necessarily mean hockey games won. It was the poor team of the league that had the spirit without which games are not won.

This year, as last year against Vernon, when it dawned on the money-boys that they might not take the finals by playing hockey, they attempted to take it by hacking the opposition down. It is no exaggeration to say that the Elks went on the ice on Friday night in Kamloops obviously with the intention of roughhousing their way to victory. They nearly succeeded; but not quite. Don Warner of CJB, Vernon, in his broadcast on Saturday, commented: "Last night's contest brought back memories of the Canadians' series with the Elks last year, when they found they could not win the right way, by playing better hockey, they deliberately set out to hack the opposition to pieces to slow them down as much as possible."

Injuries, no matter how small, can always slow a club up to some extent, and according to reports from Kamloops, no less than three or possibly four of the Packers will be carrying their share of tape and gauze around with them tonight. The tactics used by the Elks are deplorable and for that fact alone the idea that they are trying to win the series by hook or crook will do them more harm in public relations than anything else. The Vancouver papers report they are the coming Allan Cup holders and to top it off they have to go out and play Canada's national game as if they had a machete in one hand and a letter of apology in the other. Some time or other, the executive of this league is going to wake up to the fact that one team that has tried to buy the Allan Cup can ruin the league. It has been coming now for three years. . . . Hockey, as a spectator sport, can be a wonderful game. If I wanted to see a wrestling or a boxing match, I'd make sure what it was billed as. If I want to see men cut down and injured, I'd go to war again. But if I want to see a hockey game, I want to see a hockey game. Apparently in this league you see everything in one hour's playing time. . . . Mr. Warner said much more and some of his comments were even stronger than those quoted above.

These things are not reported or commented upon in any desire to gloat. But, like Mr. Warner, we believe the time has come when someone should say something about the manner in which this league has been handled during the past two or three years. The fact that Kelowna won the league title makes these things easier to say now; at least there can be no sting of "sour grapes" about any remarks.

We've had excellent hockey in this league this year. There can be no criticism about the calibre of play. But the fact remains that there is a large and growing body of fans which resent the league being dominated by one club. It may not be true, but it will be hard to convince the average fan in Vernon, Penticton or Kelowna that the Kamloops Club does not run the league. This feeling has developed so far, indeed, that many fans have been convinced for months that even the referees are conscious of the situation and that no team can get a break in a game against the Elks. These things may not be true, but

EMULATING THE PATTERN SET LAST SUMMER that made Kelowna "The City of Champions," are the KELLOWNA PACKERS who Saturday night dumped the highly-favored Kamloops Elks from the Allan Cup playoff trail to advance into the provincial semi-final against Nanaimo Clippers. The series starts here Thursday night.

Victory Sidelights

Was it a fluke—or did Kamloops feel so confident that the league championship trophy was left in Kamloops instead of brought to Kelowna for Saturday's game? It was won by Vernon Canadians last year and presented to them right after they completed the final against Kamloops in two straight.

An exhaustive research through the Courier's records is the basis of the assertion that Saturday's shutout broke a record of over 100 league games (including league playoffs) since the Elks failed to score at least one goal. Since October 28, 1949, when Elks were blanked 3-0 in Kelowna, they played 43 scheduled games and seven playoff games in 1949-50, 55 scheduled games and six playoff games in 1950-51 and 50 league games and three playoff games in 1951-52 before they were whitewashed again. Total 164 games.

A frustrated band of Kamloops Elks boarded the bus en route home shortly after Saturday night's game. They looked dejected; felt humiliated, and could hardly believe they had been knocked out of the Okanagan playoffs.

"We could have been out on the ice for another couple of hours, and we still could not have scored," Paul Thompson remarked after the game. "No team could have beaten Kelowna tonight," he declared. "When a team has got the fight and drive, and the will to win, you can't beat it," he said, as he wished Phil Hergeshelmer the best of luck in the coming series.

Thompson gave full credit to Hergeshelmer as a coach. "I don't know what that boy has got, but he worked miracles with his team. I've never seen such loyalty, and the will to win carried them through."

Dr. Ralph Hughes, president of the OSAHL, was present in the press box at the start of the game. After witnessing the first period when Kelowna was leading 2-0, he went out, and did not come back.

Hundreds of fans waited around for over half an hour outside the Packers' dressing room to congratulate the players. It was close to thirty minutes before any of the players made an attempt to remove their skates and uniforms.

The Kamloops dressing room was a picture of dejection. Paul Thompson was almost speechless as he stood in the middle of the floor. With downcast eyes, a tired band of Elks sat around the room. It was plainly evident that they could not believe that they had been eliminated in the series.

When Paul Thompson came out on the ice to congratulate Phil Hergeshelmer and the team, the Kel-

Red Cross Canvassers Start Drive This Week

ANNUAL financial drive of the Canadian Red Cross Society gets underway this month.

Quota for Kelowna and district has been set at $10,000 according to campaign chairman Harry Webb. Rural areas will be asked to collect $4,650, while

In releasing the names of team captains, Mr. Webb said service clubs and other local organizations are co-operating to the fullest extent. House to house canvassing will start within the next few days, and Mr. Webb appealed to citizens to have donations ready so as to eliminate call backs.

"There is nothing so discouraging as to have to call back, and since all the canvassers are taking on this job out of the goodness of their hearts and are doing it on their own time, the co-operation of householders is earnestly requested," he declared.

COUNCIL MEETING

City Council meets tonight in the Council Chambers, City Hall, at eight o'clock.

Packer Victory Smoker

Kelowna Packers are the toast of the town. It took four years to do it, but Phil Hergeshelmer's crew finally captured the Okanagan championship, and with their present fighting and will-to-win spirit stand a good chance of marching down the Allan Cup players' trail.

As a form of tribute to this fighting aggregation, a "Packer Victory Smoker" is being held in the Kelowna Club at 8 o'clock Tuesday night. Every male hockey fan is invited to the celebration, at which time the Willsbough Trophy, emblematic of the Okanagan Hockey Championship, will be presented to the team.

Chief purpose, in addition to personally congratulating the players, is to bolster the depleted financial resources of the Packers' hockey team.

Once a team gets beyond the league playoffs, the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association takes over, with the result the Packers' share of gate receipts in games to come will be small. It's estimated $2,000 will be required to carry the club through the next series of playoffs.

In addition, an effort is also being made to buy the team hockey jackets, complete with crests. These jackets cannot be purchased for peanuts.

A minimum of 200 is required at tomorrow night's gala affair. Admission charge is $10. There will be a season hockey ticket door prize, several other prizes; bingo games, and outside entertainment. Every male hockey supporter is invited. The Kelowna Club is donating use of the premises and expenses are being kept to a bare minimum.

Tickets may be obtained from the Capital Clear Store, any member of the hockey team executive or from the Kelowna Club. In making plans for the smoker, the committee in charge feels Tuesday night's smoker would be an ideal time for hockey supporters to personally meet the team, and give them a good send-off in their quest for the Allan Cup.

There will also be a public presentation of the Okanagan championship symbol at sometime during, or possibly at the conclusion of the series with Nanaimo Clippers.

R. A. Grant Quits Post Tree Fruits

R. A. Grant, who has been in charge of export sales for B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., tendered his resignation on Saturday morning. The Courier learned this morning.

A. K. Loyd, president, and J. B. Lander, sales manager, are on route to the east and, consequently, no comment was forthcoming from any company officials.

When contacted by The Courier, Mr. Grant confirmed the report and stated that his future plans are indefinite at the moment. When it was suggested that he might accept a position in the United States, he admitted there was that possibility. He has, however, made no definite decision, he stated.

Mr. Grant is district commissioner.

OKVMA MEETING
Quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association will be held in the Legion Hall, Armstrong, March 8. City Council was informed Monday night. It is anticipated several civic representatives will attend the conference.

Elks Kept Scoreless For First Time in 160 League Games

B.C. Semi-Finals Open Here Thursday

By AL DENEGRIE

WISEACRES and self-styled soothsayers, who follow closely the pattern of Allan Cup hockey, got their first jolt over the week-end—a jolt that may convince the majority of them that predicting weather changes is more in their line.

Definitely discredited as forecasters are the "experts" and armchair generals in B.C., who, almost to a man, picked Paul Thompson and his well-balanced and highly-touted-and-paid Kamloops Elks to be the team to watch in the Western charge towards Canada's senior hockey crown.

Now it'll be the Elks that will do the watching—from the sidelines, that is—all because somebody forgot to tell somebody about the Kelowna Packers. Or if they were told, they didn't believe it!

It's a case of seeing is believing now as the spirited Packers, banded together into a fighting, driving force by Phil "Phantom" Hergeshelmer, former American Hockey League great, made history Saturday night. These are a few of the developments:

1.—Packers' 5-0 victory over the Elks brought a record overflowing crowd earned them the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League title, taking the best-of-five final three games to one.
2.—It was the first time Kelowna ever won the league championship. In other years Packers failed to survive the first playoff round.
3.—Packers' purchase of a ticket into the B.C. semi-final and the first lap on the long Allan Cup trail means more hockey for Kelowna and the Okanagan.

4.—Roy McMeekin's second playoff shutout was at the expense of probably the finest modern record in senior hockey in Canada. It broke a string of over 160 games since the Elks failed to score at least one goal. The last time the Elks were shut out was October 28, 1949 when Kamloops was blanked 3-0—here in Kelowna.

5.—The classy but not-too-hard-gained victory precipitated the wildest demonstration of spontaneous joy ever to run rampant in Memorial Arena. There's no doubt now that the support—shy in making itself evident during league play and in the first playoff stages—is here now. Late from a financial standpoint, but here nonetheless!

Packers must have taken more of a toll out of the Elks the night before than shown at Kamloops when the Hergeshelmermen forged out a 4-3 call. They were tired almost from the start and showed no success in coming up with a counter-solution to the Packers' pesky and persistent checking.

Jack Smith, injured several weeks ago, was back in his center slot for the first time but his addition failed to ignite any explosives. The Elks mentor may have envisaged.

SOUNDLY BEATEN
With McMeekin at his peerless best and the forwards flying all over the ice pretty much at will, the latent Kamloops power never had a chance to assert itself. The favorites in most places were soundly whipped.

Not that the outcome was obvious all the way. Even at the end of the second period when Packers had fogged their way to a 2-0 lead there was the odd misgiving among some Packer backers.

But even the Elks staunchest supporters were ready to concede victory when Brian Roche gave the Packers their third goal early in the finale. This was borne out less than two minutes later when the DDR line lit the lamp again, this

LOGGER SAYS SNOW HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO

According to Maurice McCarthy, well-known logger in the Grouse, depth of snow in that area is "two to three feet" higher than last year, while the water content of the snow is also "above average." Mr. McCarthy is of the opinion that Kelowna can expect a high water table this year, even though the weather may be satisfactory for an orderly run-off.

Elaborate Plans Made In City for Observing Education Week Mar. 2-8

KELOWNA teachers, students, parents, school trustees and every individual or group connected in any way with local education will participate in the observance of a nation-wide Education Week, March 2-8 inclusive.

A program of events designed to bring home to the general public the true meaning of modern education is being planned by local education authorities. Playing a big role in the activities of this week will be the students and teachers of all the Kelowna schools and the Kelowna Parent-Teachers' Association.

Not only parents, but all citizens of the communities to which they belong are urged to visit their local schools during Education Week to see their schools in action. In some schools special programs have been arranged, while in others the visitor will see the ordinary school day as it is regularly carried out.

In Kelowna the city schools will be open on the following dates and hours to welcome visitors:

Kelowna Elementary School, Wednesday, March 5, 1:00-3:00 p.m.
Kelowna Senior High School, Wednesday, March 5, 1:00-4:00 p.m.
Kelowna Junior High School, Thursday, March 6, 2:00-4:00 p.m., and 7:00-9:00 p.m.

"OPEN HOUSE"

One innovation this year is the fact that the Junior and Senior High Schools will not both be open on the same date for "Open House." This will enable the interested visitor to visit both schools. And, if the prospective visitor is unable to visit any of the schools during the day, the Junior High School will hold an "Open House" between the hours of 7:00-9:00 p.m. on Thursday evening.

There has been a short program arranged which will feature the work of the Junior Band but most of the evening has been planned as informal. Visit the schools, meet the teachers, discuss your problems and ask questions. Plans for the local observance of Education Week began early in January and frequent meetings have been held by the planning committee to build up what is hoped to be the best local Education Week yet held in Kelowna. The planning committee consists of M. N. Barwick as chairman, with the following teachers as members:

Rural, Mrs. Anne McClymont; Rutland, A. Matheson, Miss Joan Rich; Kelowna Elementary, Mrs. E. Burbank, Miss R. Haney; Kelowna Junior High, Miss Eula Walker, James Stewart, John Smith; Kelowna Senior High, Miss M. Lean, R. McClelland, Walter Green.

CONSIDERABLE PUBLICITY

Publicity for Education Week has this year been extensive and it is hoped that every citizen of the community will have been notified either through a letter brought home by his school child, by letters addressed to organizations of the community or by the press and radio. Several local store merchants have donated valuable window space to Education Week, committees for their use during the week to display examples of actual school work. Pamphlets advertising Education Week have been placed in local stores and offices where it is hoped that they have proved interesting and informative.

Again it must be emphasized that the School Board, and teaching staffs heartily invite all interested citizens of the community to visit at least one school during Education Week and see it in action, not only during Education Week but as often during the year as they can. You may or may not agree that the present system is the best one for the modern day, but at least take the opportunity to see it in action.

By the end of 1952 about 700,000 Canadians will be receiving federal old age pensions; this number combined with children in receipt of Family Allowances will bring number of Canadians receiving monthly Ottawa cheques to about five million.

RESTRICT BULL SALE TO B.C. CATTLE ONLY

KAMLOOPS — Kamloops Bull Sale and Fat Stock Show will be held March 11-13 as planned, on B.C.-only basis, unless further developments in the wake of the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in Saskatchewan make it advisable to cancel the annual event entirely.

This decision was reached at an emergency meeting of the directors of B.C. Beef Cattle Growers Association, held at Kamloops, B.C., last night. Earlier B.C.'s Agriculture Minister had announced a ban on the entry of Alberta cattle into B.C.

The Bull Sale committee will meet March 4 to review latest decision in the light of the latest advice from Federal and Provincial Government veterinarians.

If the show is held, only bulls and market cattle from British Columbia herds will be permitted into the barns and show-ring. Though the possibility of contamination en route from the B.C. ranches to Kamloops is remote, special precautions will be taken to avoid this.

Change to a B.C.-only basis will not seriously reduce the Bull Sale's entry list of herds. Only 23 of the 132 bulls were to come from Alberta ranches.

CONVENTION AND MONEY-RAISING PLANS DISCUSSED BY WINFIELD PTA

WINFIELD — The regular meeting of the Winfield P.T.A. was held in the school with a fair, but still not nearly satisfactory attendance.

It proved one of the most interesting meetings of the year with business and money-raising plans to money-raising activities. Mrs. E. Gibbons and Mr. R. Goodburn were top scorers and Mrs. E. Colton and Mr. E. Pow, Jr., were low.

Founders' Day was observed by a question and answer review led by Mrs. A. Larsen, of the founding of the P.T.A. and its achievements.

Three interesting films were shown by Mr. S. Robinson.

A cake raffle was won by Mr. A. Larson.

PTA TO SERVE REFRESHMENTS TO VISITORS

The Kelowna Parent-Teacher Association is also co-operating in Education Week by serving coffee and doughnuts at each of the city schools during the day while some of the outlying P.T.A. organizations plan something similar in their local communities.

The P.T.A. also with the co-operation of the radio station, has given its March 1 program over to S. Swift, of the Junior High School staff to present the topic of "Education Week."

A fitting summary to Education Week may be found in the program planned by the Kelowna Parent-Teacher Association for its next regular meeting in the Junior High School on March 10. The program will take the form of a panel discussion on "My Observations During Education Week." Several representative citizens of the community have been asked to take part in the panel and the evening should prove profitable and enjoyable.

The Kelowna Ministerial Association has also been contacted and informed of the plans for Education Week.

SPECIAL ROAD WILL TEST TRUCK DAMAGE

SALEM — (AP) — The long argument between the highway builders and the truckers over how much highway damage is caused by trucks will be settled scientifically this summer.

The tests will be started next August on a specially-built road 50 miles south of Portland, Idaho. The contract for building the test road was let last week by the Western Association of State Highway Officials.

The western states each will contribute $30,000. The rest of the $240,000 total cost will be paid by the trucking industry, petroleum haulers and the federal bureau of public roads.

W. C. Williams, assistant Oregon highway engineer, who is chairman of the advisory committee in charge of the project, said it would give engineers valuable data on whether they are over-designing or under-designing the highways.

FIVE THICKNESSES

On this test road, there will be pavement with five different thicknesses—8, 10, 14, 18 and 22 inches. Trucks of varying weights will run thousands of times over each section.

Highway engineers have agreed that the maximum load per axle should be 18,000 pounds. The tests, which will last through next winter, will show if they are right.

The engineers are designing roads 18 inches thick to carry the 18,000-pound loads, but there are thousands of miles of out-moded highways that are only six or ten inches thick. The test will demonstrate maintenance costs on these, as well as on stronger roads.

TRUCKERS DENY

The test will give the western legislatures a guide to levy taxes on various types of motor vehicles. The Oregon highway commission says trucks cause a third of the road damage, but the truckers deny it. The test will show who is right.

Battles between the truckers, who want to carry bigger loads, and the highway engineers, who say loads are too big now for many western highways, take up a lot of time in the western legislatures.

POOR PA SYSTEM PENTICTON ARENA IS CRITICIZED

PENTICTON — Continuing dissatisfaction with the public address system now in use at the Memorial Arena was expressed by aldermen at the council meeting and it was decided that Mayor W. A. Rathbun should ask the contractors responsible for the system to improve the service or remove the equipment.

Council still controls the remaining payments to be made for the construction of the arena and it was indicated that unless the present deficiencies in the P.A. system are rectified no payment will be made.

Alderman W. D. Haddleton warned council that unless action is taken right away it is possible that it may become increasingly difficult to have the service improved.

"We should give the people responsible a stipulated period of time to make the improvements and if the matter is not attended to then we should make them into the system out," Alderman F. C. Christian advised.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

The purpose of education week is to encourage Canadians to examine their educational system, discuss it and help in its development. Criticism by parents, ratepayers and teachers, provided it is sincere and based upon accurate information, can make a very valuable contribution to our schools, our teaching methods and the effectiveness of education in today's changing world.

In these times of high taxes for defence and social security, and steadily climbing cost of living, it is easy to fall into the dangerous state of taking education for granted. Education Week is the time for every citizen to clarify his or her thinking on the real purpose of education—to focus the spotlight on all its aspects and to strengthen this bulwark of our democracy.

Your interest, your ideas, your active participation are vital to the improvement of education in Canada. The home, the church, the school, the farm, industry, and commerce, management and labor—all have responsibility in this continuing process.

Education is everybody's business.

'Know the Child' Theme Of Parent-Teacher Group

MANY people ask, "Just what is P.T.A.? What do you mean when you say Parent-Teacher Association? What are the aims and objectives of this organization which is nation-wide, almost world-wide?"

The answer to these queries is that P.T.A. is a "great school for parents and teachers with one major objective—to know the child." It is a social experiment in co-operative education, carried on according to a single standard in home, school and community.

In order to clear up some incorrect impressions it must be stated that the P.T.A. movement is not for the purpose of providing a women's auxiliary to the school board. Neither is it a crusade to reform the schools.

It is not a lyceum course offering a series of varied entertainments to the community, nor is it a federation of clubs in which each club develops its own particular interest according to its fancy, and unites with other clubs for certain great objectives.

The P.T.A. demonstrates that not only government, but mental, moral and physical reform must be conducted by the people, for the people, and that prevention by the parents will, in time, eliminate the necessity for a cure or correction by the state.

The Parent-Teacher Association is proof that the vast, unexploited reserves of parent power, fully understood, intelligently directed, and applied through the simple machinery of local interest, rather than by the more complicated system of public agencies, will accomplish from within what no external application of civic betterment has been able, thus far, to achieve.

PARENTHOOD A PROFESSION

The movement aspires to educate the parents while the children are still young enough to derive benefit. It elevates parenthood to the dignity of a real profession requiring study and preparation.

The P.T.A. organization is a great democracy in which all points of difference—social, racial, religious and economic—are lost sight of in the united effort to reach a common goal—the welfare of all children in every province of Canada.

Each local association attempts to carry out the objectives of the movement by bringing parents and teachers together to think over and study the needs of children in each locality. It plans its work and then works its plan to meet the needs of the community. Study groups are formed to consider new knowledge. The members come together knowing much, but with the ability to learn more.

Civic Plans Revealed To Kamloops Rotary Club

KAMLOOPS—What's in store for the City of Kamloops in the coming year was the theme of talks given by members of the 1952 City Council at a Rotary Club meeting here. Mayor J. E. Fitzwater pointed out at the beginning of the meeting that while the aldermen were speaking about the activities of the committees of which they are chairmen, it should not be forgotten that they serve on many other committees too. Mayor Fitzwater described his fellow councillors as "one of the best councils we have had to work with in some considerable time."

City Council is interested in helping industries get established in Kamloops since the growth of the city will depend to a great extent on the development of industry. Ald. Gene Cavazzi, chairman of the Industrial Committee, stated. He expressed appreciation for the work done towards this end by the Board of Trade and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Ald. Cavazzi suggested that while there is a limited scope to the type of industries needed here, the City Council should assist industry in any way it can even to the extent of subsidizing essential industries.

PUBLIC SPIRIT

Speaking as chairman of the Publicity and Reception Committee, Ald. Roy Cummings told the Rotarians that there is everything here to make Kamloops a wonderful place in which to live and enjoy life. Kamloops progress so far he attributed to the splendid spirit of its citizens, but he warned that there are major projects still to be undertaken. One of the most important, he said, is the reconstruction of Victoria Street. Ald. Cummings asked full support for a by-law which will be put to the citizens "in the near future."

Ald. Archie Galloway, chairman of the Airport and Exhibition Park Committees, had high praise for last year's aldermen "who left things in wonderful shape." Ald. Galloway commented on the fact that it appears that there will be a surplus on 1951 operations, the first in years.

The various responsibilities of the Public Works Department were described by Ald. J. H. Giddens, chairman of that committee. He told the Rotarians that Kamloops was fortunate in having "a fine level headed businessman" like Phil Herring as city engineer. He also informed the gathering that a man with 14 years of experience in street construction and asphalt work will soon be coming to take charge of the Streets Department. Ald. Giddens described last year as "a year of preparation" in which much new equipment had to be bought to replace that which was old and worn out.

PAVED STREETS

It was stated by Ald. Giddens that a definite formula governing the paving of city streets will be set up and a certain amount of work will be done each year. There will be no hit and miss jumping from one section to another. He also informed his listeners that City Council has hopes of paving some of the downtown alleyways this year. The lowest estimate that the council has so far concerning work which would put Victoria Street in a better state of repair is $14,000, which is too high in Ald. Giddens' estimation. He mentioned the problem of providing Powers Addition with waterworks facilities as one of the big headaches facing the council.

Ald. Will Jordan, chairman of the Finance Committee, used a chart to show the percentage of increase in prices since 1945, the last normal tax year in Kamloops. Taxes to the property holder have increased 82 percent, common used lumber is up 191 percent, the city's gross wage bill has jumped 162 percent and school costs have increased by 46 percent. Ald. Jordan compared prices on articles as they sold in 1945 in relation to their cost today. A fire hydrant which cost $70 in 1945 is now $183 and man-hole covers have gone up from $17.50 to $48.

One way to help ease these crushing burdens would be to get the Provincial Government to take a share of the school cost load, Ald. Jordan stated. He described the city as a corporation in which the people are the shareholders and the council, the directors. With co-operation, the city's business will be sound and healthy, Ald. Jordan stated, but without it there will be the progress there should be.

Ald. Helen J. Millward of the Health and Social Service Committee dealt with the functions of the proposed Public Health Unit for this district. The unit today is a mere suggestion, Ald. Millward said, and the functions of governments are increasing to include responsibilities which were regarded in the past as private or personal.

City Clerk Howard M. Levey was also called on by Mayor Fitzwater to say a few words.

INCREASE IN IRRIGATION CHARGES SET

PENTICTON — New irrigation rates, recommended by the irrigation commission and approved by City Council, will mean a substantial increase in revenue for the city of Penticton.

At the meeting Council learned that the new rates which range from $20 an acre to $16 an acre, for cultivatable land will mean that the city coffers will benefit by $7,000 this year.

The new rates are $20 for one acre; $10 for two, $18 for three, $17 for four and $16 for five and over. Land not suitable for cultivation will be subject to a $4 discount.

Last year the rates were $14.00 and $12.50 for non-producing land. According to Avery King, president of the Penticton local of the BCFA, most orchardists seem to feel that the increase, although welcome, is justified. "There was no real opposition," said Mr. King, referring to a meeting of the executive of the local at which the proposed rates were discussed. Another orchardist, questioned agreed with Mr. King and commented, "I'm surprised it didn't come sooner."

The fascinating story of water-fowl migration travels, offered by some 12 years of banding by Ducks Unlimited, will be told in a new banding booklet being compiled by Chief Naturalist Bert W. Cartwright.

Three Outstanding Adjudicators For Musical Festival

PENTICTON—When the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival is presented in Penticton on April 21 to 26, contestants and audiences will have an opportunity to hear the adjudications of three outstanding experts in their respective artistic fields.

Geoffrey Tankard, one of England's foremost pianists, will adjudicate the music, well known Vancouver dancing teacher, Miss Mary Isdale, will judge the dancing, and the verse speaking will be adjudicated by one of Canada's finest authorities in this field, Miss Kathleen N. Elliott.

Born in Bradford of musical parents, Mr. Tankard, at the age of 14, played all the Bach "48" the Etudes of Chopin and most of the Beethoven Concertos and Sonatas. At 15, he took his diploma at the Royal College of Music, and while still a schoolboy, held an organ appointment for two years.

He later studied under such famous teachers as Emil Sauer, Lamond, Moselwitich and Dr. Egon Petri. Mr. Tankard taught for some years in London, Manchester and Bradford, and then retired from music for ten years to enter business.

The call of music, however, proved too strong to resist and he decided to take up the career of a concert artist. In three years he had memorized over 3,000 pages of music and learned more than 50 chamber works and over 20 concertos.

Packed halls in wartime greeted his 300 recitals with Albert Sammons. Of these performances, the London Times said this:

"It was an invigorating experience to hear so virile and complete a partnership. There was never any danger of faulty balance and there was always an adequate resonance. The tribute paid to contemporary music by the performance of Edmund Rubbra's Sonata deserved particular recognition."

The first two movements of this work have a lyrical beauty rare in the music of our time. All this Mr. Tankard and Mr. Sammons brought out wonderfully well, and they swept the audience off its feet with the healthy ferocity of the finale. The whole thing was a superb example of how genuine artistry can penetrate into the composer's mind."

MAN OF WIDE CULTURE

A man of wide culture and founder of two Shakespearean Societies Mr. Tankard is well known as a lecturer and adjudicator, and is now professor and examiner of the Royal College of Music, and examiner to the Associated Board.

In 1939, he appeared with the London Symphony Orchestra in Queen's Hall, and with the London Philharmonic Orchestra in 1940. In 1950, he toured Canada, and, in 1951, gave recitals and lectures in Malta.

The music critics notices have been very much in his favor. The London Daily Telegraph has said, "He played delicately and neatly and rightly allowed the music to make its own appeal."

From the Sunday Times: "He showed irreproachable taste—the fluency of his finger work was above criticism."

The Times has said: "It is a relief in these days, when a dozen pianists give recitals in London a week, to find one whose playing is free from the hard professional outlook. Mr. Tankard gives pleasure by his playing and that is a comparatively rare achievement. He treats the piano as an instrument of music, not of torture."

The Manchester City News called him the "possessor of very high pianistic attainments."

The dancing adjudicator, Miss Isdale, is a well known teacher of all types of dancing, but she specializes in national and character dancing as well as in ballet and classical.

Her pupils have gained honors at festivals and Highland games throughout Canada and the United States, and many have been trained for professional careers.

She is a member of the Canadian Dance Teachers' Association and the Scottish Country Dance Teachers' Association of Scotland. Her ballet and classical training was taken at the Belcher and McAdam School of Los Angeles.

JOBLESS MAN MUST PAY $214 HOSPITAL BILL

PENTICTON — Awarding judgment in favor of the plaintiff, the Penticton General Hospital, His Honor Judge M. M. Colquhoun ordered John Hull, 69-year-old Penticton resident, to pay an outstanding hospital bill of $214.50 in County Court last week.

In handing down his ruling, Judge Colquhoun requested Penticton Hospital counsel, Edgar Dewdney, to defer further action in the collection of the account until he had had time to study the case with a view to securing some aid—financial or a time extension—for the defendant.

Conducting his own defense, Hull told the court that he was unable to work because of ill health and had only a small income to support himself and his wife.

He claimed that, had he been admitted to the hospital when he should have been, his BCHIS premiums would have been paid up. When he was finally admitted to hospital on the recommendation of his doctor, his premiums had lapsed by about three weeks.

He told the court that he had paid BCHIS premiums amounting to approximately $80 for himself and his wife up until that time, but was unable to keep up with the payments.

Mr. Hull was admitted to hospital on March 11, 1951, and discharged on April 6 of the same year. His hospital account of $8.25 a day for 26 days amounting to $214.50 had not been paid, according to the testimony of L. J. Kennedy, hospital accountant.

Hospital administrator E. F. MacDonald testified that the bill was turned over to the Penticton Credit Bureau for collection.

J. J. Van Winkelaar, manager of the credit bureau, gave evidence to the effect that several notices had been sent to Hull asking him to attend to the account and on December 24, 1951, a letter was sent to the defendant asking him to show proof that he had paid BCHIS premiums. "How could I pay the bill or the premiums if I didn't have the money?" the defendant asked.

SNOW, LABOR SHORTAGE HALT PRUNING

VERNON—Heavy snow, which lies undisturbed in local orchards, is holding up pruning operations in this district, according to W. Baverstock, Department of Agriculture.

Transient labor is now employed in the bush, where wages are at peak high, so the fruit grower is again at the mercy of the elements and the country's economy.

"Mr. Baverstock said that fruit trees appear to have come through the winter all right. There has been slight bud damage but not extensive."

Figures must be kept crossed for a long time yet, Mr. Baverstock

SURPRISE PARTY HONORS COUPLE AT GLENMORE

GLENMORE—Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McKay received a pleasant surprise when over twenty immediate neighbors and friends walked in to bid them farewell and wish them good luck in their new home in Olds, Alberta.

The surprise party had been arranged by Mrs. Jack Robertson and Mrs. Terry Harding and during the evening Mr. and Mrs. McKay were presented with a beautiful copper lamp from their many friends in Bankhead. Mr. McKay has already left for Olds and Mrs. McKay and children will follow after she either sells or rents her home.

German measles are still making the rounds in this district with several children out of school.

Please Come Forward...

Bob Johnston made so many Gentlemen's bets that "Kelowna Packers would beat Kamloops' Elks in the series" and can't remember who all these gentlemen were, but as he is sure they ARE ALL gentlemen.... he expects them to come forward and hand him the dough. p.d.q.

Grandma was one of those unforgettable characters you read about. And every time I think of her, I remember one of her favorite sayings: "Early sow — Early mow".

Many years have passed since Grandma died. But just the other day something happened to remind me of that old motto of hers.

I was working over my budget, trying not to admit what the figures told me: My savings had slipped. At this rate, it was a cinch that some of the things I'd started to save for would have to wait. Suddenly I remembered "Early sow..."

"Old-fashioned stuff!" I told myself. Then I got to thinking. "Maybe it is tough to save today. But it's still important... still my only hope of getting some of the things I want most."

"Well, at least I'm keeping up my life insurance payments," I thought. "That's a way of saving which combines protection for my family as well. And maybe if I make an extra effort to put more money aside I'll reach my goals sooner."

"So here goes! I'll try again. I'll find some new ways to economize. Somehow I'm sure I can manage to be more thrifty."

And you know — it's a funny thing! The moment I made that decision, I realized that Grandma's idea was not old-fashioned. I've just caught up with her now!

STUNNING CLIMACTIC FINISH

Crime Doesn't Pay, Barbarous Elks Learn to Their Chagrin

KELOWNA 4, KAMLOOPS 3

By AL DENEGRIE

JUSTICE triumphed as the Kelowna Packers survived three savage periods at Kamloops Friday night to register a 4-3 decision and move out front for the first time in the best-of-five Allan Cup playoff series for the right to advance into the B.C. semi-final.

The victory, fashioned with three players injured—two of them out of action, completely—came with stunning suddenness to the Kamloops patrons who had gleefully watched a 2-0 Elksian deficit wiped out only to have the grimly determined Packers deadlock and win the game in the final three minutes of play.

The vicious skirmish had its villains, goats, heroes, bad moments, excitement, thrills, some smart hockey and some poor shows—all pyramided upwards with a terrific punch line at the end that left everyone either aghast or delirious, depending in which camp the supporters belonged.

While team play was the important factor in the Kelowna triumph, the combat concluded on such a note it manufactured its heroes. They were Bo Carlson for firing in the tying goal, Mike Durban for the game-winning tally and Roy McMeekin for his stupendous display in the Kelowna goal.

The gamiest guy on the ice was doughty Howie Amundrud who played the last two periods with a "frozen" left jaw. Giving him a close run for pluckiness was another star Kelowna defenceman, Frank Kuly, who finally couldn't stand the pain in his left side any longer and had to quit after one try in the second period.

Both men were injured in the venomous first period when Kamloops, humiliated by the stound 7-2 beating at Kelowna Wednesday, operated on the thesis that the only way to beat Packers was to decimate them.

The arbiters started out the period by calling a slashing penalty on Mike Daski before 13 seconds had ticked off, giving the impression there was going to be no rough stuff this time.

HATEFUL OFFENCES
In no time some of the most hateful offences in hockey began to elude the referees. Injuries to Amundrud and Kuly both were attributed to butt-ending by Andy Clovechok, right pin on the frustrated BCM line.

Bernie Bathgate, pivot of the "terrible trio" was also in an ugly mood, tearing after Jim Hanson just as the players were leaving the ice at the end of the first period and almost precipitating a riot. Bathgate started out the second with a two-minute high sticking penalty.

While he was off, Brian Roche pounced in with Kelowna's second goal for a 2-0 lead. Bathgate was also off when Packers scored the winning goal with less than two minutes remaining.

About six minutes earlier Bathgate and Brian Roche tangled in a corner, with both drawing majors. But Bathgate got a minor penalty at the same time for tripping Roche.

Roche was just stepping on the ice when Carlson scored. Less than a minute later Mike Daski fired from well out, the puck deflected off Durban's body into the net.

A lucky goal that proved the adage that crime doesn't pay!

FROZEN FLURRIES—JIM HANSON and BO CARLSON did ironman service in the last two periods, with FRANK KULY out altogether and HOWIE AMUNDURD given as much rest as possible. PHIL HER-

GESHEIMER also did double duty, spelling off on defence at times as well as on his right wing spot. KENNY AMUNDURD went into the game with a sore knee suffered in the Wednesday game and never went out in the third at all.

PAUL THOMPSON also was scrambling lines in the last two periods, with the main burden thrown on the BCM string. KAMLOOPS scored just a second after the middle period ended.

ELKS outshot PACKERS 29-21. KEN TERRY and Hanson laid down the heaviest checks of the night. TERRY sailed into STU ROBERTSON on the Kelowna blue-line, while Hanson caught JOHN- NY MILLIARD trying to get into the PACKERS' end.

Kelowna never had better moral support at an away game yet, what with over 500 Packers backers in the stands as well as the Kelowna band making a thunderous din at every occasion.

MIKE DASKI danced a fancy jig halfway up the ice after the winning goal was tallied. Big JIM MIDDLETON and MIKE DURBAN paced the KELOWNA pointmakers with a goal and an assist. BERNIE BATHGATE and JOHNNY MILLIARD each picked up three points as the BCM threesome managed to shake their covers that were changing much of the time due to the depleted packer ranks.

PHIL HERGESHEIMER, who thinks the world of his boys (he calls them "champions through and through") gave serious consideration to defaulting the series after the punishment they took in the first period.

Short-handed until the final 13 seconds, Elks never had a chance to press for a tying goal. Durban helped to make sure of that with a famous display of ragging stick-handling back and forth behind the Kamloops goal, finally drawing so many players on himself Kelowna nearly got a fifth goal.

First period—1, Kelowna, Middleton (Robertson) 5:07. Penalties: Daski, slashing, 13; Clovechok, roughing 8:10; Daski, slashing, 8:50; Bathgate, high-sticking, 11:23; Hanson, high-sticking, 16:01.

Second period—2, Kelowna, Roche (Durban) 1:47; 3, Kamloops, Fleming (Bathgate, Milliard) 17:21. Penalties: Bathgate, high-sticking; Clovechok and Hergesheimer, high-sticking, 12:21.

Third period—4, Kamloops, Milliard (Bathgate) 9:59; 5, Kamloops, Clovechok (Bathgate, Milliard) 12:16; 6, Kelowna, Carlson (Middleton) 17:52; 7, Kelowna, Durban (Daski) 18:25. Penalties: Clark, roughing, 6:03; Hanson, roughing, 12:07; Roche, fighting (five minutes), 12:47; Bathgate, tripping (minor), 13:47; Daski, 13:47; Robertson, slashing, 13:38.

Referees: A. Smith, W. Neilson.

CATCH UP ON 4 POSTPONED GAMES

Four postponed minor hockey league games were caught up Thursday.

Legion Pats and Thunderbirds battled to a 3-all tie, with Don Murray counting twice for the Pats and Bill Williams notching a pair for the Birds. This was the sole juvenile game.

In an earlier sawoff, Elks and Cubs settled for 1-1 in a midget fixture, with Bourke counting for the Elks and Wakabayashi tallying for the Cubs.

Tigers led only seven players, but with Willie Felt in great form in the net they blanked Grizzlies 5-0 in another midget tilt. Wayne Hicks and Knorr paced the scoring with a brace.

Fisher's hat-trick was the highlight of the other midget contest between Beavers and Lions, ending 3-2. Tanemura tallied twice for the Lions.

Kamloops Shows How In Another Arena of Battle

KAMLOOPS 63, KELOWNA 61
Kelowna and Kamloops were lined up against each other here Friday in another branch of sport, but the outcome was the opposite to what happened at Kamloops.

The Malmgrens held fast for a 63-61 triumph in a senior "B" basketball exhibition at Senior High Gym. The local aggregation put on a real stretch drive in the final quarter, outscoring the visitors 23-18, but they fell two points short of catching up.

Kamloops led at every quarter, but it was anybody's game nearly all the way through especially in the late stages of the first half when Kelowna pulled ahead, edged ahead by a solitary point and then slipped back as Kamloops ended the half on top 29-25.

Ken Buchanan and Bill Brown sparked the winners with 18 points apiece. High pointment of the night was Bruce Butcher of Kelowna with 10. Date of the return game is still indefinite.

Don Johnston Chosen

Most Valuable on V's
PENTICTON — When it came passing out time for the Penticton Hockey Club's awards, defenceman Don Johnston was the big winner.

He won both the most popular player award and the most valuable player award. Willie Schmidt winner of the league's most valuable award, and Dick Warwick were close behind in the voting.

Warwick got an award as Penticton's highest scoring ace in O.S. AHL play. The speedy centerman ended fifth in the league race.

PACKERS' PLUCKIEST PAIR

TYPICAL OF THE INDOMITABLE SPIRIT of the Kelowna Packers as they make their bid for senior hockey honors was that of FRANK KULY (left) and HOWIE AMUNDURD, starry rearguards both injured at Kamloops Friday. Both were so insistent on taking to the ice Saturday despite their injuries, Coach Phil Hergesheimer couldn't turn them down.

Kuly played the game with a cracked rib, with his side strapped up and "frozen." Amundrud had a painful bone bruise on his left jaw, also injected with novocaine for the game. Both claimed deliberate butt-ends caused the injuries.

Press Development of Minor Boxla to Survive

In the arena of battle and financially, Kelowna's B.C. Champion Bruins came through 1951 in flying style.

Bruins not only outdrew all other home clubs during league play last year but contributed 41 per cent of the funds used by the Interior Lacrosse Association to pay operating expenses in the five-team loop.

Convinced that the survival of senior lacrosse in the city depends upon a steady supply of locally-developed minor talent, the Kelowna Lacrosse Club this season intends to redouble its efforts to activate interest and competition in the minor branches.

Thursday's annual meeting of the club deplored the lack of outdoor facilities for boys wanting to play lacrosse. The meeting re-affirmed its position that it's outside, where facilities should always be available, where the moppets learn the rudiments of the game.

Lacrosse is a healthy, zestful summer sport, one spokesmen averred, and helps keep idle hands out of mischief. The school board's policy of banning boys in its recreation program was severely criticized.

BOARDS AROUND FLOOR

Believing it was too much to ask for at present for the building of boxes in the parks scattered throughout the city and on the school grounds, those attending the meeting still felt it would be a step in the right direction if the old box in The City Park was put to use again.

Accordingly, they unanimously endorsed a motion urging the city to put boards around the old box's hard surface. The fence and boards around the asphalt surface were removed two years ago because of their "eye-sore" appearance.

Bill Baker, chairman of last year's minor boxla committee of the Kelowna Lacrosse Club, made a strong plea for more funnelling of money and coaches into the minor ranks. Sticks will be available again, this year at $2 each by way of the minor promotional committee of the B.C. Lacrosse Association.

TRAVELLING KETT DOWN

Treasurer Bill Treadgold reported the club had stayed within its budget, ending with a bank balance of nearly $400. Total expenses amounted to nearly $2,000, of which $743 went to equipment and $473 to travelling expenses. The treasurer opined that the latter figure was "amazingly low," owing to car owners making free use of their cars most of the time.

Kelowna's cut from the BCLA on the B.C. final series here against Richmond amounted to $108. Treadgold reported. He said there were no heavy purchases of equipment to be made this year, auguring a nice start.

With the present system of turning over 15 percent of the club's gross share of gate receipts to the I.L.A. and with Kelowna gates higher than any other, some $331 was paid in by the K.L.C. about 41 percent of the total paid to I.L.A. Some $80 is expected to be returned.

In his president's report, Eric Holland said 1951 would be recalled for years to come. "Not only because of its successes with the Bruins winning the B.C. championship, but because of the death of Angio Clancone."

ELECT EXECUTIVE
He paid tribute to the team and to the executive, giving special mention to Ken Winterbottom, manager last year and member of the executive.

A 10-man executive, with the power to add, was elected as follows: Bill Treadgold, Lloyd Taggart, Ken Winterbottom, Eric Holland, Laurie White, Cyril Gillard, Pete Allen, Guy Deffer, Louis Rampone and Bill Baker. Officers will be chosen at the first executive meeting next week.

FRENCH TROOPS in Indo-China are engaged in continuous war against Communist raiders. In the latest guerrilla raid, eight soldiers were killed, eight wounded. These photos were taken recently by a British newsreel company. Top, with smoke rising from the battle going on in the valley, a supply parachute drifts to earth. For the natives, life goes on almost as usual. EAST MEETS WEST IN KOREA. Sappers from the Canadian Engineers stumbled across an ancient Korean burial ground recently while searching for wood in the barren hills of the country. Said to contain the remains of bygone kings, the cemetery is guarded by stone statues of ancient gods. Sgt. W. Behie of Cochrane, Ont., is shown above, standing beside one of the giant figures.

A PIONEER STEP toward an all-plastic airplane is this British-produced plastic delta-shaped wing which will be shown at the 1952 British Industries Fair from May 5 to 16. Plastic aircraft promise to be much easier to build than present-day metal planes, and from 50 to 80 per cent cheaper. The British expect the delta-shaped plastic plane to be airborne within two years.

AFTER DEFEAT of their guerrilla forces, Greek Communists have maintained their organization as a spy and propaganda network. This has been proved in the recent trial of accused Reds who operated secret radio stations and collected military information which they broadcast in code to Russia. Dimitri Datsis, shown here, was treasurer of the party and distributed, according to evidence against him, over $30,000 in six months for military information.

HOWARD PREVATTE, 30-year-old North Carolina farmer, stands at the door of his three-room cabin holding the rifle with which he fought off an attempt by masked raiders to seize him. When shots from the rifle drove off the raiders Prevatte took his family to a neighbor's house. With him holding the rifle here are James, Jr., Mrs. Prevatte and baby Shirley. Young Bobby looks warlike in front of his dad. Recently ten men, believed to be Ku Klux Klan members, were arrested for flogging a man and a woman in North Carolina.

MRS. ALAN KIRK, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Russia, brought back Russian clothes and a mass of information on prices on her return to the U.S. These comparable prices shown here are the result of her information. A Russian girl, according to Mrs. Kirk, wears three to four times longer the clothing shown here than her North American counterpart. The dresses which Mrs. Kirk brought back with her were put on display in a New York store.

CIGAR ADVERTISEMENTS appearing in Canadian and U.S. magazines was used by the Communists as part of a propaganda leaflet distributed in Korea to persuade U.N. soldiers to surrender. # Over 270 Attend Father, Son Banquet at United Church

Over 270 boys of the Tuxis, Trail Rangers, Tyros and Explorer groups and their fathers, and AOTS Men's Club members of First United Church filled the church hall Wednesday night for the annual Father and Son banquet. A successful event, it was sponsored by the AOTS, with president, Cameron Day, as chairman.

Following dinner, served by the George McKenzie Circle, John Logie proposed the toast to the fathers, which was responded to by Rev. R. S. Leitch, of the AOTS; Sid Hubble proposed the toast to the sons, with Don Bennett giving the reply.

One of the main attractions of the evening were the films shown through the courtesy of the RCMP, depicting various aspects of Mountie life. Guest speaker was Corp. Tom Quigley, who brought with him films entitled "Northwest Passage," "Scarlet and Gold," and "A Dog Goes to School." Harold Poulos operated the machine for the Kelowna Film Council.

Another highlight of the night's program was the newly-organized boys' choir under the capable direction of Mrs. Rose Bruce. They delighted the gathering with their singing of "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" and "The Holy City," with solo parts being taken by John Ellison and Tom Fisher. Also well received was a duet, "The Lord's My Shepherd," sung by Gerry Jantz and Bruce Moore, who had been trained by Mrs. Cecil Moore. Accompanist was Mrs. S. E. Bulman-Fleming.

WHITE CANE CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAINED

An enthusiastic audience of about 60 members, associate members, and guides, greeted results of an amateur contest staged by the White Cane Club at their regular monthly meeting in the Women's Institute Hall Tuesday night. Everything from tap dances to riddles was on the program as some of the members vied with each other for top honors of the night. Some outside talent added to the enjoyment of the evening.

With Mrs. E. C. Maile and Mrs. Percy Perkins in charge of the program, prizes were awarded to the following: ladies, first, Mrs. R. Caruthers, who gave an interesting story about her dog; second, Mrs. J. B. Yule, who recited a Pauline Johnson poem. Men, first, Ed. Thompson, of Vernon, who put on a conjuring act; second, George King, who played the flute in duet with young seven-year-old violinist, Clyde Spiller; and third, James Whitelaw, who gave a very interesting demonstration of learning music from records.

Guests taking part in the concert were Miss Beryl Ross, trumpet soloist; and Aidan Spiller, who presented some impromptu vocal solos. Two little tap dancers proved to be an additional treat. They were Diana and Rosemary Schlosser. Mrs. Arthur Jackson was piano accompanist for the musical and dancing numbers. The Dr. Knox Chapter, I.O.E., served refreshments, while the Kelowna Lions Club provided transportation.

Local Musical Group Nets $200 For Cathedral Fund

An excellent presentation of sacred music, both choral and instrumental, drew a packed church February 17 when the First United Church choir, Kelowna String Ensemble, and other local artists appeared in a benefit concert to aid the Coventry Cathedral Fund, sponsored all across Canada by the Canadian College of Organists. Final tabulation of proceeds revealed Kelowna's contribution will exceed many of the larger centers of the country. Total of $200.38 was raised.

The program opened with Dr. Beadle at the organ of First United Church, playing "Grand Choeur in D" by Gullmunt. The "Festival Teum" (No. 7 in E flat) was the first selection of the church choir, followed by a pleasing duo of numbers "L'Ance Regime" (1st Suite) and "Andante from Orione" (with organ), by the Kelowna String Ensemble. Members of the well-received aggregation are Mrs. Isabel Murray Campbell, Mrs. M. Hall, A.T.C.M., Mrs. G. D. Cameron, Mrs. E. R. Oatman, violin; W. Murray, viola; Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane, violoncello; F. T. Marriage, A. (Mus.) T.C.L., piano.

Mrs. J. H. Trenwith, vocal soloist, was heard in "Sighing, Weeping, Trouble, Want," by J. S. Bach, and "Worship of God in Nature" by Beethoven. "Hark, the Vesper Hymn is stealing," a Russian air arranged by Stevenson was the first selection of the First United Men's Choir, while the Junior choir, under direction of Mrs. W. O. Clark, pleased with their singing of "New Thank We All, Our God," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. H. T. Elford played the organ solo "Fantasia in E Minor" by Sir John Stainer, followed by the Junior choir again, in "Listen to the Lambs" and "Jacob's Ladder." The Kelowna String Ensemble's next selections were "Sonata in A," "Allegro and Minuet," and "Minuet" (Berenice).

Ernest Burnett was next featured singing two selections from Handel's "Messiah," "Comfort Ye, My People," and "Every Valley shall be exalted." The Crusaders' Hymn, "Beautiful Saviour," was next sung by the First United Ladies' Choir, with the entire choir combining for the program's final number, "Christ, all hails thee the ground" by Handel, and "Bless the Lord, O My Soul," by Grundy.

If you wish to have this fashionable silhouette, you'll have to start to get the waistline down. Now is the time to plan and work for the effect you wish to achieve later.

New corsets and girdles are available to emphasize the smaller waists. However, a few bending-down exercises and cutting out the sashes and pasties will go a long way towards helping you get into these new garments.

Fancy fitted belts and tight cummerbunds are used to focus attention on the waistline. Hips can be slightly padded; sleeves are bigger and fuller at the top. Waist length, jackets, capes and small wraps have appeared to be worn with the wider skirts and can be made of almost every type of material. This year the princess silhouette is back with all its grace and beauty. Strapless dresses are popular, and combined with a small bolero, give you double-duty wear. Skirt lengths still vary according to the type or style of the garment and are best determined by your own height, but the latest forecast is that they will be worn "a little longer" again.

Speaking of skirt lengths turns our attention to stockings which are perfectly gorgeous and made in many new eye-catching designs... some with embroidered clocks, monograms, little floral patterns worked on the side or winding up the seam at the back of the stocking. Seams and heels are outlined, or if you are wearing sandals, you will find hosiery with no double toes or heels at all. There is a large assortment from which to choose. They're all beautiful, sheer and colorful.

The sheath dress is still in the picture and must not be overlooked as a perfect basic costume. It can be worn by itself, with a fancy belt, lacy lingerie collars or bows, changes in jewellery or with a sheer full all-around apron to give you an afternoon dress-up dress. It can be complemented with a little jacket for a trim costume look.

Dressmaker suits are made from lightweight wools, wool substitutes, gabardines, linen, corded silks and shantung. Skirts can be flared or pleated according to your own taste. Blouses are sheer, delicate and lacy.

The return of the princess silhouette means becoming clothes for everyone. It has the prettiest, most flattering lines for every type of feminine figure and can be chosen by teen-agers and grandmothers alike. Colors are the trend and should be chosen wisely in order to bring out the best in your own complexion and personality. It's going to be a lovely spring ahead each and every one of you should be the "prettiest lady in the Easter Parade."

the fans in three towns believe they are.

Hockey cannot stand these things. These, plus the constant changes in the schedule and the blind-eye policy towards infractions of the salary rules. What this league needs more than anything else is the elimination of dictatorship and the resumption of democracy. No league can operate successfully for long if it is dominated on the ice and in the league meetings by one club. It is high time the league was run by the clubs which ice teams, rather than by one of them.

A year ago, this newspaper made similar comments. If they were true then, and we believe they were, they are even more pertinent today. Hockey is a grand sport and one which we would now find it difficult to do without. But do without it we will have to unless some drastic steps are taken in league administration. Much of the irritation that has been rampant all season will be lessened by the fact of the Packers' victory. But those irritations will still remain and will again come to the fore unless steps are taken to eliminate them. Fans can get "fed up," even the most enthusiastic of them. And they just about are.

The "Giant Killers" are now on the Allan Cup road and will have the support of the entire Okanagan. It may well be that they will be carrying the hopes of B.C. into the western finals and on into Canadian championship.

But fans should appreciate that the club needs much more than moral support. It is in serious financial difficulties and the future "gates" are out of its hands; all it will receive from future games is a certain stipulated amount for expenses. Pay-rolls still have to be met and there is still a season's operational deficit of several thousand dollars that must be faced. It was for this reason that the appeal for funds was made Saturday night and it was for this reason that the smoker was arranged for Tuesday night.

Many fans have said nice things about the Packers these past ten days. They can give real meaning to their words by backing them up with tangible evidence of their admiration by their attendance and generous financial support at the smoker tomorrow night. If the club is to be pulled out of the financial morass everyone must pull his weight. If the deficit is not reduced very, very considerably, despite the excellent record of the team this year, it is very, very doubtful if there will be hockey here next year. It is that serious.

A. M. IVERSON,
76, PASSES AWAY

Albert Martinus Iverson, 76, 1850 Marshall, who came to Kelowna nearly seven years ago to retire, died in hospital here Saturday, March 1. Last rites will be from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Wednesday (March 5) at 2:00 p.m. Rev. D. M. Perley, of First United Church officiating, assisted by Rev. C. B. Garratt, retired Free Methodist minister, also of Kelowna.

It was the deceased's request that monies ordinarily spent on flowers be donated to the B.C. Cancer Society.

Native of Valders, Wis., the late Mr. Iverson was in the private banking business in Leeds and Rugby, North Dakota, before coming to Canada in 1913, settling in Shaunavon, Sask., where he operated a grain elevator. Later Mr. and Mrs. Iverson moved to Nalca, Sask., where he farmed and went into the farm machinery business as well as buying grain. The Iversons came to Kelowna to retire in 1945.

Besides his wife he leaves two sisters—Mrs. Mary Larson and Mrs. Lettie Hillman, both of Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin.
Funeral bearers will be: Messrs. D. A. Perry, R. Buchanan, S. Olson, J. Allan, A. Graves and L. White of Vernon.

Expressing regret over leaving the city, Mr. Brannan said it was an opportunity he could not pass up "for the sake of my wife and family."

TOP HONORS in the latest registered nurses examination, were won by a Kelowna girl, Margaret "Meta" McIntosh Black, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald M. Black. Two Vancouver girls placed second and third in the list of 183 successful candidates in the exams conducted January 15 and 16, released by the Registered Nurses Association of B.C.

A graduate of General Hospital school of nursing, Miss Black, who is 24, is taking the UBC nursing course for a degree of bachelor of science in nursing. She was born in Lunenburg, in the province of Nova Scotia, where her father was a medical missionary before the family came to B.C. in 1939. They lived in Victoria a year before moving to Kelowna, where Dr. Black now practices. Miss Black attended Kelowna High School for junior and senior matric and obtained her B.A. at UBC.

Two other Kelowna girls are mentioned in the list of successful graduates. They are Dolores Polasek, and Margaret Stoltz, both graduates of St. Paul's Hospital school of nursing.

DEATH CALLS
JOHN H. BUSH

John Henry Bush, a former Manitoba farmer and a resident of the Okanagan for nearly 30 years, died in hospital here Saturday (Mar. 1) at the age of 70. Late residence was 630 Cadder Ave.

Funeral service will be held Tuesday (Mar. 4) from St. Michael and All Angels' Church at 2:30 p.m. Ven. D. S. Catohpole officiating. Burial will be in Kelowna Cemetery.

Bereaved relatives have requested that monies ordinarily spent for floral wreaths be donated instead to the local branch of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. The late Mr. Bush, born in Crofton, Ont., June 29, 1872, came to this area first in 1922, coming from Manitoba with his wife and family. They moved to Vernon in 1929 and from 1940-1948 resided in there Monday.

Few champions, in this part of the country at least, receive the shield of victory that Phil Hergesheimer did. While everyone was there (but only a few saw in the bedlam of unrestrained joy) a garland (lei) of orchids, direct from Hawaii, was placed around his neck.

High and dry? No, yacht-owners weren't left that way, but at the "open house" celebrations after the game at the Yacht Club many got high and the larder was left dry. This was only one of several victory celebrations throughout the city.
